Growing Beauty Through Time, Talent & Heart

Behind every garden in full bloom are the hands and hearts that help it grow. And while our garden may bloom with flowers, its true beauty grows from the hearts of the volunteers who care for it. The ones who share their time, talents, dedication, and a whole lot of heart to make it happen. We are so grateful for the wonderful volunteers who give all of these things to make our garden a beautiful place for everyone to enjoy.

Our garden volunteers gather together, make their plans, roll up their sleeves, and get to work. From weeding and mowing to trimming, shaping, planting, and caring for the garden, they give their sweat and energy to creating a space that brings beauty and joy to everyone around.

A BIG SHOUT-OUT TO OUR GARDEN VOLUNTEERS!

Thank you Patsy Britt, Mary Anne Crocker, Gary Crozat, Joyce Dunn, Don Gauld, Irene Gibby, Robert Gibby, Sherry Smith, Michael Isham, and Ernestine Witcher for all that you do!

Your heart, time, and dedication make a difference. Every weed pulled, every blade of grass mowed, every branch trimmed, and every garden bed shaped is part of the beauty you are creating for all of us to share. We appreciate your dedication, and we celebrate YOU!

Thank you for helping our garden and our community bloom!
